Part II. Activities and Operational Information (Must be completed by all applicants)

- 1 Provide a detailed narrative description of all the activities of the organization—past, present, and planned. Do not merely refer to or repeat the language in the organizational document. List each activity separately in the order of importance based on the relative time and other resources devoted to the activity. Indicate the percentage of time for each activity. Each description should include, as a minimum, the following: (a) a detailed description of the activity including its purpose and how each activity furthers your exempt purpose; (b) when the activity was or will be initiated; and (c) where and by whom the activity will be conducted.

PLEASE SEE ATTACHMENT #1 FOR A COMPLETE RESPONSE TO THIS ITEM.

- 2 List the organization's present and future sources of financial support, beginning with the largest source first.

The first round of fundraising (2008) consisted of private solicitations to a small group of individuals (roughly 6 people). These 6 individuals contributed (as gifts) the roughly $70,000 raised in late 2008. There were no formal fundraising campaigns in 2008, and we did not receive any institutional funding. In 2009, the organization did not conduct fundraising activities, formally or informally. The organization will start fundraising again in May 2010. The fundraising effort will focus on individuals pre-identified as likely or possible contributors to this type of activity (clean energy, climate and sustainable development). We expect to solicit contributions from roughly 50 individuals by the end of 2010, and have a goal of receiving contributions from roughly 30 of those individuals. There are no plans for formal fundraising events (e.g. fundraising dinners) or formal solicitations (e.g. mail, e-mail, etc.) at this time. The organization prefers to conduct fundraising with minimal overhead costs.

Part II. Activities and Operational Information (continued)3 Give the following information about the organization's governing body:

7 State the qualifications necessary for membership in the organization; the classes of membership (with the number of members in each class); and the voting rights and privileges received. SUPPORTING INFORMATION FOR FORM 1024

PART II, ITEM 1, ACTIVITIES AND OPERATIONAL INFORMATION

As stated in the Articles of Organization, the Corporation will engage in the following activities: (i) educating the public on current issues that relate to, or that may have an impact on, public health and sustainable development, and (ii) promoting the development and implementation of sustainable economic systems, through the use of media and publicly available communications, that will be, at all times, consistent with the charitable and educational purposes permitted by Section 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code.

More specifically, the Corporation will engage the general public and policymakers, consistent with the program expenditure requirements set forth in Section 501(c)(4) of the Internal revenue Code, on the urgent need to promote clean energy in the context of climate protection and sustainable economic development. The bulk of the engagement will come in the form of media communications, including but not limited to: (1) paid, non-targeted, issue advocacy advertisements promoting certain types of clean energy and/or clean energy policies; (2) paid, targeted issue advocacy advertisements aimed at certain groups of policymakers or regulators; and in some cases, (3) paid, express advocacy, electioneering communications designed to influence the outcome of an election, consistent with the Corporation's exempt purpose. Specific examples of each type of communication include:

- (1) A paid, non-targeted, issue advocacy advertisement in a newspaper or online showcasing the fact that other countries are outspending the United States on the research and development of clean energy. The advertisement would not be aimed at any legislative individual or process, explicitly or implicitly (i.e. timing), and would be designed for the sole purpose of elevating the issue in the general sense.
- (2) A paid, targeted issue advocacy advertisement in a newspaper or online highlighting an important issue to the development of clean energy during the public debate about the issue. Some of these media communications will qualify as grassroots lobbying under the Internal Revenue Code, based on timing and specificity, while others may be qualified as general issue advocacy (similar to Example #1 above) by virtue of the fact they are not specific enough or proximate enough to a legislative process or decision to qualify as lobbying. Records will be kept to differentiate these outcomes.
- (3) A paid, express advocacy electioneering communication in a newspaper, online or on television criticizing the policies of a selected candidate for public office. The advertisement would highlight certain votes or positions, and in some cases will call on certain actions by voters. This type of communication would not qualify as any type of lobbying under the Internal Revenue Code, but would qualify (subject to limited exceptions) as political activity within the constraints delineated by the Internal Revenue Code, discussed below.

In addition to its media communications, the Corporation will conduct some issue analysis for the purpose of: (1) informing its strategies with regard to promoting clean energy and sustainable development; (2) helping other groups (e.g. NGOs) make informed decisions about clean energy; (3) highlighting trends in the development of clean energy that should be mitigated or preserved. The Corporation intends to make this information available to partnering organizations free of charge (i.e. it does not anticipate selling this information at this time, as access to this type of information is one of the missing pieces of sound decision making among these types of groups). The Corporation also intends to create “earned media” opportunities. For example, the organization may take a clean energy issue to a specific press outlet (e.g. LA Times) for the purpose of convincing a writer to write a story on the issue (as differentiated from “paid media,” in the form of paid media communications like a 1-page advertisement). This type of media requires substantial preparation and time commitment because the desired outcome depends largely on the strength of the issue itself, and how it is presented to the respective media outlet.

As discussed, the Corporation will conduct activities that are, at all times, consistent with the charitable and educational purposes permitted by Section 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code. We are aware that there are strict limitations on the amount of electioneering activities conducted by 501(c)(4) organizations, and anticipate that no more than 50 percent of our activities will constitute electioneering activity, as defined by the Internal Revenue Code. To ensure that each media communication is consistent with the Corporation’s exempt purpose, and compliant with Internal Revenue Code, each media/public awareness campaign will be reviewed by a Steering Committee on the following grounds: (1) veracity; (2) consistency with exempt purpose; (3) prospect to create a sustained public understanding of the issue; and, (4) classification under and consistency with the Internal Revenue Code. Any proposal that does not meet the core principle of the 2020 Action Fund to promote economic and environmental sustainability will not be executed. Records of all media communications will be kept for the purpose of classification, including cost, date initiated and executed and type of communication.

To date, the Corporation has conducted limited activities. Shortly after its founding in 2008, the Corporation launched a pilot project to test the efficacy of one of the media communication types discussed above. It raised and spent roughly $50,000 on the following activities: (1) market and political research to identify the primary opponents to clean energy policy (~ $10,000); (2) assessments of potential partners and outlets for its media communications in several marketplaces (~ $5,000); (3) securing and working with a local consultant on media strategies in the target marketplace (~ $5,000); (4) designing and building the television advertisement (~ $8,000); (5) securing the media buy in compliance with all reporting requirements, including FEC (~ $22,000). Since then, the Corporation has hired a paid analyst (at roughly $5,000/month) to conduct internal issue analysis, messaging work and some fundraising activity. The contractor will also help with other non-political activities, including but not limited to the earned media clean energy campaigns discussed above.

2020 ACTION FUND, INC. – EIN 26-3506765

IRS FORM 1024, APPLICATION FOR RECOGNITION OF EXEMPTION UNDER SECTION 501(A)

The Corporation plans to be more active in 2010, depending on the success of the fundraising effort over the next several months. Our goal is to raise roughly $200,000-$300,000, expending a majority of the contributions on a combination of the types of media communications mentioned above. As discussed, we are aware of the limitations on electioneering activity imposed by IRC. We anticipate some electioneering work in the form of media, but not in excess of 50 percent of activities.

The majority of the activities described above will be conducted by the officers of the Corporation and other persons who volunteer their time and efforts to its educational cause, in coordination with the one paid contractor assisting with organizational and strategic operations. As such, any time committed to the Corporation by the officers or volunteers will not exceed one-third of any officer's professional service time. The paid contractor assisting with organizational and strategic operations will be the only employee working more than one-third time. None of the officers or directors are receiving compensation at this time, and there are no plans to remunerate officers or directors for time or expenses. The Corporation will manage an interactive Web site to both inform the public and build support for future activities.

The activities described above will be directed primarily from the Corporation's offices in Boston, Massachusetts, but as stated above, the Corporation will use media and other publicly available communications (such as Internet, radio, print publications) to educate the public on issues pertaining to sustainable development. Those communications will likely disseminate information nationally, using largely electronic means of communication and coordination.

The activities described above further the exempt purposes of the organization by: (1) bringing issues related to clean energy and sustainable development directly to the general public and policymakers in an attempt to elevate the public discourse on these issues, largely through the paid, non-targeted media communications discussed above; and, (2) putting pressure on policymakers and the political process to make clean energy part of the general political discourse. The Corporation will seek to detail issues that are often overlooked by the press and policymakers, but that nonetheless impact great numbers of people.

As discussed above, the activities of the Corporation will be funded with donations from the public.

STATEMENT ON LOBBYING AND POLITICAL ACTIVITY

As discussed, the Corporation will participate in issue advocacy, grassroots lobbying, and to a limited degree, electioneering activity. The bulk of its work will be dedicated to educating the public and elevating the issue of clean energy into the everyday political and public discourse in the United States via issue advocacy media communications and some grassroots lobbying. The Corporation will maintain a separate account for electioneering activities, and will at all times remain compliant with all limitations in IRC Section 501(c)(4), including but not limited to political activity.

The Corporation has spent roughly $22,000 on electioneering activities (express advocacy) to date. It has spent more than this amount on other activities, including but not limited to general analytical work related to clean energy, strategy, messaging and fundraising. All electioneering expenditures made to date are appropriate for a 501(c)(4) social welfare organization in accordance with all applicable provisions of the Internal Revenue Code, including but not limited to Federal Election Commission (FEC) rules regarding electioneering communications and other forms of issue advocacy. All electioneering expenditures made in the future will be appropriate for a 501(c)(4) social welfare organization in accordance with all applicable provisions of the Internal Revenue Code, including but not limited to Federal Election Commission (FEC) rules regarding electioneering communications and other forms of issue advocacy. The Corporation's directors are aware of the evolving legal landscape on express advocacy for 501(c)(4) social welfare organizations, and the history of the general prohibition on using corporate or labor funds to conduct many types of election-related work. The directors are committed to updating its activities in accordance with any changes in federal or state law, subsequent agency rulings, as well as FEC regulations. As a general matter, the Corporation anticipates relying almost completely on individuals, rather than corporations and/or labor groups, to support its program activities. As such, it expects to be only tangentially affected by changes in election law with regard to corporations and labor.

PART II, ITEM 5, CONNECTION WITH OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

The Corporation has a close connection with the 2020 Project, Inc., a not-for-profit 501(c)(3) organization (EIN # 26-2268871). There is a close connection by virtue of the following:

- 1) The two organizations were founded by the same people at roughly the same time. The 2020 Project, Inc. received tax-exempt status under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code on April 20th, 2009. The founders of 2020 Project, Inc. are R. Brooke Coleman, Miles Cooley and William Kheel. These three individuals are also the individuals submitting this application for exemption. As such, the Corporation and the 2020 Project, Inc. were founded by the same people at roughly the same time.
- 2) The directors of the two organizations are the same. The directors of 2020 Project, Inc. are R. Brooke Coleman, Miles Cooley and William Kheel. These three individuals are also the directors of the Corporation submitting this application for exemption. As such, the directors of the two organizations are the same.
- 3) The two organizations have similar mission statements. The 2020 Project, Inc. educates the public on current issues relating to public health and sustainable development, and promotes the development and implementation of sustainable, economic systems through the use of media and publicly available communications. As such, both organizations promote public health and sustainable development through the use of targeted media communications.

2020 ACTION FUND, INC. - EIN 26-3506765

IRS FORM 1024, APPLICATION FOR RECOGNITION OF EXEMPTION UNDER SECTION 501(A)

The primary difference between the two organizations is that the 2020 Project, Inc. does not participate in activities that carry on propaganda or otherwise attempt to influence legislation, and does not participate or intervene in any political campaign on behalf of, or in opposition to, any candidate for public office. As such, the 2020 Project, Inc. does not participate in political or electioneering activities, whereas a portion of the activities conducted by the Corporation will be considered electioneering activity under the Internal Revenue Code and FEC regulations. The directors of the two organizations are aware of the restrictions governing 501(c)(3) and 501(c)(4) organizations, particularly with regard to electioneering and lobbying activities, and have therefore adopted by-laws that reflect the limitations on support and financial resources articulated by the Internal Revenue Code, and at all times maintain separate records, accounting and activities. To date, there has not been any resource sharing among the two entities, aside from volunteer time commitments from the common directors. The directors do not expect any resource sharing to occur. None of the directors draw income from either organization.

On the following page we describe our Officers and Directors, who will be carrying out our exempt-purpose activities.

WHO WILL CARRY OUT OUR ACTIVITIES

The termination of any proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent shall not, of itself, create a presumption that the person did not act in good faith and in a manner which the person reasonably believed to be in the best interests of the Corporation or that the person had reasonable cause to believe that person's conduct was unlawful.

6.3 Indemnification in Actions by or in the Right of the Corporation. The Corporation shall have the power to indemnify any person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending, or completed action brought (i) by or in the right of the Corporation, or (ii) by the Attorney General for any breaches of trust or for any alleged failure by the Corporation, its directors or officers to apply said funds to charitable purposes, as permitted by Chapter 12, Section 8H of the General Laws of Massachusetts, to procure a judgment in its favor by reason of the fact that such person is or was an agent of the Corporation against expenses actually and reasonably incurred by such person in connection with the defense or settlement of such action if such person acted in good faith, in a manner such person believed to be in the best interests of the Corporation, and with such care, including reasonable inquiry, as an ordinarily prudent person in a like position would use under similar circumstances. No indemnification shall be made under this Section 6.3:

(a) in respect of any claim, issue, or matter as to which such person shall have been adjudged to be liable to the Corporation in the performance of such person's duty to the Corporation, unless and only to the extent that the court in which such proceeding is or was pending shall determine upon application that, in view of all the circumstances of the case, such person is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnity for the expenses which such court shall determine;

(b) of amounts paid in settling or otherwise disposing of a threatened or pending action, with or without court approval; or

(c) of expense incurred in defending a threatened or pending action which is settled or otherwise disposed of without court approval, unless it is settled with the approval of the Attorney General.

6.4 Indemnification Against Expenses. To the extent that an agent of the Corporation has been successful on the merits in defense of any proceeding referred to in Sections 6.2 or 6.3 of these Bylaws or in defense of any claim, issue, or matter therein, the agent shall be indemnified against expenses actually and reasonably incurred by the agent in connection therewith.

6.5 Required Determinations. Except as provided in Section 6.4 of these Bylaws any indemnification under this Section 6 shall be made by the Corporation only if authorized in the specific case, upon a determination that indemnification of the agent is proper in the circumstances because the agent has met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in Sections 6.2 or 6.3 of these Bylaws, by:

(a) a majority vote of a quorum consisting of directors who are not parties to such proceeding; or

(b) the court in which such proceeding is or was pending upon application made by the Corporation or the agent or the attorney or other person rendering services in connection with the defense, whether or not such application by the agent, attorney, or other person is opposed by the Corporation.

6.6 Advance of Expenses. Expenses incurred in defending any proceeding may be advanced by the Corporation prior to the final disposition of such proceeding upon receipt of a written undertaking by or on behalf of the agent to repay such amount unless it shall be determined ultimately that the agent is entitled to be indemnified as authorized in this Section 6.

6.7 Other Indemnification. No provision made by the Corporation to indemnify its directors or officers for the defense of any proceeding, whether contained in the Articles, Bylaws, a resolution of directors, an agreement, or otherwise, shall be valid unless consistent with this Section 6. Nothing contained in this Section 6 shall affect any right to indemnification to which persons other than such directors and officers may be entitled by contract or otherwise.

6.8 Forms of Indemnification Not Permitted. No indemnification or advance shall be made under this Section 6, except as provided in Sections 6.4 or 6.5, in any circumstances where it appears:

(a) that it would be inconsistent with a provision of the Articles, these Bylaws, or an agreement in effect at the time of the accrual of the alleged cause of action asserted in the proceeding in which the expenses were incurred or other amounts were paid, which prohibits or otherwise limits indemnification; or

(b) that it would be inconsistent with any condition expressly imposed by a court in approving a settlement.

6.9 Insurance. To the extent permitted by law, the Corporation shall have power to purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any agent of the Corporation against any liability asserted against or incurred by the agent in such capacity or arising out of the agent's status as such whether or not the Corporation would have the power to indemnify the agent against such liability under the provisions of this Section 6.

7. CONFLICT OF INTERESTS POLICY

7.1 Disclosure of Financial Interest. In connection with any actual or possible conflict of interest, an interested person must disclose the existence and nature of his or her financial interest to the Board of Directors of the Corporation and any relevant committee members. For this purpose, an "interested person" shall include any director, officer, or member of a committee of the Corporation, or an entity affiliated with the Corporation who has a direct or indirect financial interest in a proposed transaction. A financial interest shall include: (a) an ownership or investment interest in any entity with which the Corporation has a proposed transaction or arrangement; (b) a compensation arrangement with the Corporation or with any entity or individual with which the Corporation has a proposed transaction or arrangement; and (c) a potential ownership or investment interest in, or compensation arrangement with, any entity or individual with which the Corporation is negotiating a transaction or arrangement. A director or member of a committee shall not be deemed to have a possible conflict of interest solely by reason of serving, or having served, on the Board of any corporation affiliated with the Corporation.

7.2 Recusal and Investigation. After disclosure by the interested person of his or her financial interest, the interested person shall leave the Board or committee meeting while the transaction, arrangement or matter in which the interested person has a financial interest is discussed and voted upon. The remaining directors or committee members shall decide if a conflict of interest exists. If a conflict of interest exists, the following procedures shall be followed: (a) the Chairman of the Board shall, if appropriate, appoint a disinterested person or committee to investigate alternatives to the proposed transaction or arrangement; (b) after exercising due diligence, the directors or committee shall determine whether the Corporation could obtain a more advantageous transaction or arrangement with reasonable efforts from a person or entity that would not give rise to a conflict of interest; and (c) if a more advantageous transaction or arrangement is not reasonably attainable, the directors or committee shall determine by a majority vote of the disinterested directors whether the transaction or arrangement is in the Corporation's best interests and for its own benefit and whether the transaction is fair and reasonable to the Corporation and shall decide as to whether to enter into the transaction or arrangement in conformity with such determination.

7.3 Failure to Disclose. If a director or committee member has reasonable cause to believe that an interested person has failed to disclose actual or possible conflicts of interest, he shall inform the interested person of the basis of such belief and afford the interested person an opportunity to explain the alleged failure to disclose. If, after hearing the response of the member and making such further investigation as may be warranted in the circumstances, the directors or committee determine that the interested person has in fact failed to disclose an actual or possible conflict of interest, the directors shall take appropriate steps to protect the Corporation.

7.4 Record of Actions. The minutes of the Board and all relevant committees shall contain the following: (a) the names of persons who disclosed or otherwise were found to have a financial interest in connection with an actual or possible conflict of interest, the nature of the financial interest, any action taken to determine whether a conflict of interest was present, and the directors' or committee's decision as to whether a conflict of interest in fact existed; and (b) the names of the persons who were present for discussions and votes relating to the transaction or arrangement, the content of the discussion, including any alternatives to the proposed transaction or arrangement, and a record of any votes taken in connection therewith.

7.5 Compensation. Special procedures shall be in effect with respect to compensation issues. A voting member of the Board or any committee whose jurisdiction includes compensation matters and who receives compensation, directly or indirectly, from the Corporation for services is precluded from voting on matters pertaining to that member's compensation.

7.6 Annual Statements. Each interested person shall annually sign a statement that affirms that such person (a) has received a copy of the conflicts of interest policy, (b) has read and understands the policy, (c) has agreed to comply with the policy, and (d) understands that the Corporation is a charitable organization and that in order to maintain its federal tax exemption it must engage primarily in activities that accomplish one or more of its tax-exempt purposes. This policy shall be reviewed annually for the information and guidance of members of the Board, and any new member shall be advised of the policy upon entering on the duties of his office. In addition, the Corporation shall conduct periodic reviews of its activities, including any transactions or arrangements with interested persons, to ensure that its activities in the aggregate promote and further the Corporation's exempt purposes.

8. RECORDS AND REPORTS

8.1 Maintenance of Corporate Records. The Corporation shall keep:

- (a) Adequate and correct books and records of account;
- (b) Written minutes of all proceedings of its Board, and committees of the Board; and
- (c) Copies of all forms of written consent executed by the directors in lieu of holding a regular or special meeting.

8.2 Inspection by Directors. Every director shall have the absolute right at any reasonable time to inspect and copy all books, records, and documents of every kind and to inspect the physical properties of the Corporation for a purpose reasonably related to the director's interests as a director.

9. ENDORSEMENT OF DOCUMENTS; CONTRACTS

Subject to the provisions of applicable law, any note, mortgage, evidence of indebtedness, contract, conveyance, or other instrument in writing and any assignment or endorsement thereof executed or entered into between the Corporation and any other person when signed by the President, and the Secretary or Clerk of the Corporation shall be valid and binding on the Corporation in the absence of actual knowledge on the part of the other person that the signing officers had no authority to execute the same. Any such instruments may be signed by any other person or persons and in such manner as from time to time shall be determined by the Board, and, unless so authorized by the Board, no officer, agent, or employee shall have any power or authority to bind the Corporation by any contract or engagement or to pledge its credit or to render it liable for any purpose.

10. CONSTRUCTION AND DEFINITIONS

Unless the context requires otherwise, the general provisions, rules of construction, and definitions in the Charitable Corporation Act shall govern the construction of these Bylaws. Without limiting the generality of the preceding sentence, the masculine gender includes the feminine and neuter, the singular number includes the plural, the plural number includes the singular and the term "person" includes both a legal entity and a natural person.

11. AMENDMENTS

New Bylaws may be adopted, or these Bylaws may be amended or repealed, by approval of the Board.

Responses to IRS Inquiry dated March 22, 2011

2020 Action Fund
P.O. Box 962186
Boston, MA 02196-2186

IRS Question 1: Please explain specifically the electioneering you plan to engage in.

The 2020 Action Fund will engage in limited, if any, electioneering activities because a recent U.S. Supreme Court case ("Citizens United") changed U.S. electioneering law. The 2020 Action Fund has received legal advice that the best way to participate in electioneering activities is through what are commonly referred to as "Super PACs." To illustrate, the 2020 Action Fund was founded, in part, to participate in electioneering activities. The electioneering activities were to include, in some cases, express advocacy for or against a particular candidate via media communications (such as television or radio advertisements). In 2010, in the wake of Citizens United, some of the potential donors to 2020 Action Fund decided to start a SuperPAC called Accountability 2010 (FEC ID C00489641) to execute its electioneering during the 2010 election cycle. As such, the 2020 Action Fund did not engage in electioneering activities during this period. At this point, it appears the 2020 Action Fund's political activities will be limited to research and other preparatory work for elections. For example, it may review upcoming primaries for the purpose of identifying key swing elections. In general, the only thing that is clear is 2020 Action Fund will not be engaging in electioneering activities to the degree (if at all) anticipated under former law.

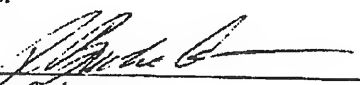

IRS Question 2: Will your organization directly lobby congress? If so, explain the specific issues you will lobby and how often?

The organization has not engaged in lobbying to date, and has no plans to directly lobby congress.

IRS Question 3: The application also indicates that there is one paid employee. Please provide the name, qualifications and copy of employment contract for that individual. What will be their specific duties.

The organization does not currently have any paid employees. We did hire an independent contractor to help develop strategy for the organization in April 2010. Her name is Elizabeth Adams. She resides at 436 Main Street, Norwich, VT 05055. We did not prepare or use an employment contract to memorialize the agreement between the 2020 Action Fund and Mrs. Adams. She was paid a monthly stipend of $5,000 plus expenses. She decided to stop working for 2020 Action Fund in December 2010 to spend more time with her family. Ms. Adams has a deep background in organizational development, including stints at the Trust for Public Land and the Student Conservation Association. She was brought on to help form the organization, organize meetings and correspondence, network the concept, and introduce us to potential supporters.

Under penalties of perjury, I declare that I have examined this information, including accompanying documents, and, to the best of my knowledge and belief, the information contains all the relevant facts relating to the request for the information, and such facts are true, correct and complete.
